

Application Form
National Geothermal Academy
June 18 - 22, 2018

Student applications accepted through June 4th 2018

The National Geothermal Academy (NGA) offers a geoscience focused training program on Geothermal Exploration and Development Decisions Based on Resource Conceptual Models. The NGA will run at the University of Nevada, Reno (UNR) at the Redfield campus in south Reno, Nevada, from June 18 – 22nd, 2018.

Details about the 2018 NGA program as follows:

GEOL 457/657: Geothermal Exploration and Development Decisions Based on Resource Conceptual Models

The module is offered to students for 2 academic credits at either the undergraduate or graduate level. A non-credit option is offered to professionals. The module is an intensive course that will run from 8:00 AM to 5:00 PM every weekday.

The NGA is intended for outstanding undergraduates, graduate students, and professionals. Strong academic preparation in quantitative fields is expected. This course is open to USA and international applicants.

A more detailed course description is provided on the Great Basin Center for Geothermal Energy website: <https://gbcge.org/education/>. Students must complete the attached application form if interested in participating in the 2018 National Geothermal Academy.
